Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Duff, Mrs. Emma Duff and Bruce Duff, of Mt. Sterling, and Mrs. Julia Lee, of Hazel Green, were in town Tuesday. Mr. Chas. Duff is the Democratic nominee for sheriff in Montgomery county. His wife was formerly Miss Elizabeth Pieratt, of Ezel.

Rev. James Kendall, of Lexington, is in town a few days to visit relatives here.

Miss Jewel Lacy is visiting her uncle, Lee McClain, of Lenox this week.

From Iowa in Fords.

Mr. and Mrs. John Cottle and Mr. and Mrs. Wilson McDaniel, of Sioux Rapids, Iowa, and Mr. and Mrs. E. T. Cartmell and children, Anna, Harry Ellis and Lloyd, of Laurens, Iowa, arrived here Saturday having made the trip in Fords. They were five days making the trip not including the stop overs along the road. They will remain here for some time visiting relatives.

Nominee for Justice in Town.

W. C. Black, Democratic nominee for Justice of the Peace for Magisterial district No. 8, was in town Monday on his way to Hazard. Mr. Black says that there is no soreness over his nomination and that the Democrats of the district assure him that he will be elected by a big majority in November. This is a year when all Democrats will be especially anxious to vote the straight Democratic ticket and there will be little crossing, and Mr. Black feels that he will be a decided help to the ticket this fall.

He will do a considerable amount of his campaigning thru the columns of the Courier and will have an article in from time time giving his reasons why the whole ticket should be elected in November.—Adv.

For Sale.

FALL LINES NOW READY.

One of the factors which enable the McClintock-Field Company to establish its extraordinary record of $500,000 sales in six months, was the fact that the company started in business with stocks entirely fresh. It is well known that during the war the quality of many lines, especially dry goods, deteriorated, while the prices continued skyward.

The McClintock-Field Company began business with all stocks purchased at a time when pre-war quality had been resumed, and near post-war price levels. The company was content, from the start, to do business at a narrow margin of profit, consistent with the times, and this led to the phenomenal sales record just remarked. In the new fall lines now ready for the merchants, there is not a "carried over" item; all goods are new, and are owned at today's market. Therefore the advantage of selecting from such a stock of goods is readily apparent. The new fall line includes a broad range of dry goods, furnishings, piece goods, notions, and, in addition, a carefully selected assortment of holiday goods and novelty Christmas merchandise, including dolls and toys.

We will appreciate any purchase of goods from the McClintock-Field Co., by the merchants of Morgan and adjoining counties, as we are stockholders in the concern. A great majority of the merchants of Morgan, Wolfe and Elliot know us and know of us, and know that we have made what we have by hard labor among them. You are helping us when you buy from the McClintock-Field Co.

Dear Friend Len:

There was a great deal of truth between the lines of your recent article in "Gumption" entitled "Jazz Music." But the truth did not consist of your praise of "Jazz." It was your estimate of so called "Classic" music.

Just what is "Classic" music, anyway? As you say, there may be some who really enjoy it. But there are thousands who pretend to enjoy it just to avoid being considered unsophisticated or old-fashioned.

ried away with the soul to other worlds. Jazz is deplorable. It is out of the pale of decent things. It is even worse than the so-called "classic" stuff. It bears the same relation to real music that bootleg liquor bears to old mellow "Kentucky Bourbon." Pardon my differing from you, but you're wrong on the jazz question. Jazz is crazy stuff.

But to return to the "classic brand" that jiggle-jiggly-jiggly-jig, jig, jig stuff that all sounds alike to me and you and most other people. So far as I am able to judge, the different renditions are the same noise. That is the way you and I and most people think about it. Only you have the nerve to proclaim your disapproval.

I never heard but one definition of "classic" music that I could understand. A little boy ask his father what "classic" music was and received the reply:

"Aw—it's—it's that noise made by people on musical instruments that you've got to SAY you like when you DON'T."

So far as I am able to learn, that is the best definition of it ever given. At least, it possesses the merit of being true. Jiggle-jiggly-jiggly-jig jig-jig! "Aw! Most charming!" declare the listeners who are afraid to declare what they really think about it.

The pretending lovers of this obnoxious noise tell me that I don't understand it. Neither do I understand the Einstein theory. Neither do the great millions of people understand either of them.

Music is melody. It has sequence and sweet recurrences for which the soul of the hearer hungers and listens. Real music registers indelibly upon the heart. It lingers there while life lasts. Again and again we find ourselves humming some melody that lives as long as life continues, and, I believe is carried away with the soul to other worlds.

And the defenders of "classic" music feel just the same way about it as we do, although they try to make themselves believe they don't.

Perhaps there is no city in the world that has more musical talent than Washington. The best and latest in grand opera comes here almost every evening by noted bands in the various parks, all rendering the latest "classic" with an unpronounceable name, written by some foreign "classic" musician whose name likewise defies pronunciation. Thousands of people crowd the city parks to listen to the latest "classic" and to clap their hands and exclaim "Chawming!"

I attended one of those concerts last week given in Stanton Park by the U. S. Marine Band, one of the finest bands in the world. The programme was of the usual kind—mostly—and the thousands who had gathered there to listen gave the customary, expected hand clapping at the end of each "spasm" and delivered themselves of the customary "Chawming!"

Toward the last the band rendered a medley of the old-time melodies. "Way down upon the Suwannee river" went out over the great gathering, and instantly, as if electrified, everybody rose to their feet. Then followed "My old Kentucky home," and everybody pressed closer to the band stand and listened with rapture. "Old Black Joe" and like immortal melodies followed. The demonstration, the cheers that followed attested the difference between the perfunctory and that which comes from the bottom of the soul.

The demonstration proved to be what I have always believed, that those who rave about "classic" music love real sure-enough music immeasurably better.

I have not written this with any expectation of its publication. It is just a heart-to-heart talk with you. It is an expression of my appreciation of your matchless column called "Gumption." Now, "Gumption" is a real classic. I always read it with infinite pleasure.

"What is home without a mother?" And what is the Courier without a "Gumption?"

Most Sincerely yours,
JOHN MORGAN PERRY.

SOUR STOMACH

INDIGESTION

Theodore's Black-Draught Highly Recommended by a Tennessee Grocer for Troubles Resulting from Torpid Liver.

East Nashville, Tenn.—The efficiency of Theodore's Black-Draught, the genuine, herb, liver medicine, is vouched for by Mr. W. N. Parsons, a grocer of this city. "It is without doubt the best liver medicine, and I don't believe I could get along without it. I take it for sour stomach, headache, bad liver, indigestion, and all other troubles that are the result of a torpid liver."

"I have known and used it for years, and can and do highly recommend it to every one. I won't go to bed without it in the house. It will do all it claims to do. I can't say enough for it."

Many other men and women throughout the country have found Black-Draught just as Mr. Parsons describes—valuable in regulating the liver to its normal functions, and in cleansing the bowels of impurities.

Theodore's Black-Draught Liver medicine is the original and only genuine. Accept no imitations or substitutes. Always ask for Theodore's.
